

Spirit West Coast 2007 Summer Missions Programs

PURPOSE OF THE PROGRAMS:

The Navigators holds Summer Missions Programs in conjunction with SPIRIT WEST COAST, to help set up and run the largest, contemporary Christian music festivals in California. Maybe you can lend your heart and other muscles to help serve at one of these cutting-edge events this summer.

Some of the benefits are:

- Developing Christ-like character in you
- Providing opportunities to gain leadership skills
- Learning from gifted spiritual leaders
- Training in evangelism, so that you can share the Gospel with those who respond to the many "altar calls" (decision times)
- Read the amazing account of what happened at SWC Del Mar 2005 after a gripping testimony from Joseph Rojas, lead singer for Seventh Day Slumber.

You will be challenged to...

- live on the edge of faith
- learn to be intimate with Jesus
- experience the values of teamwork and accomplishment
- assist people (from all walks of life) in their decisions to follow Christ
- practice disciplines of the Christian life, including personal and group Bible study

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE IN THE PROGRAMS?

The Navigator SWC Missions Programs are open to ANYONE 18-35 years of age, including COLLEGIATES, working SINGLES, married COUPLES and Active Duty MILITARY nationwide. Capacity expected: 50+. Please note other criteria:

- Spiritually... You are required to know Jesus Christ as your personal Lord and Savior, and should be willing to grow in your faith.
- Physically... Preparation and daily set-up for these huge events entails up to 3-6 hours of work. The festivals are held on many acres of property. The activities and work involved require that each participant be in good physical condition. The walking can add two or more miles per day.

ACCOMMODATIONS:

All festival campsites are on location. SWC provides The Navigators with preferred camping sites close to the festival. Everyone needs to bring their own tents and be willing to camp in semi-rustic conditions. (There are showers and toilets.)

SPIRIT WEST COAST (SWC)...

Music Festivals are presented by CHRISTIAN MUSIC TODAY! (a non-profit ministry) and produced by Celebration Concerts. The purpose of the festivals is to advance the Gospel of Jesus Christ through the medium of music. These extravaganzas of music concerts and teaching take place on fairgrounds that are transformed into a performance complex with multiple stages. Several stages are covered by high-tension tents, while others are uncovered, outdoor stages. Additionally, there are prayer tents, sports and recreation areas, food vendors, exhibitors, and a children's activity area full of puppetry and other shows where God's attributes are illustrated. The resulting atmosphere is reminiscent of a country fair.

Thousands of people attend the festival venues daily. SWC brings together a great mix of the body of Christ, from students to working singles to families and their friends. Many of them, including church youth groups, choose to camp on the grounds. They come to hear over 50 of the top Christian artists minister in music by playing their songs and giving testimony to the transforming power of Jesus in their lives. In addition, a variety of gifted speakers and teachers take to the platforms to spiritually challenge and encourage people of all ages. Musicians and speakers provide direct opportunities for people to accept Christ into their life or to deepen their commitment to the Lord. Even others may be convicted to abandon a particular sin in the life.

Important Note:

If you plan to attend a Navigator Missions Program at SWC, the Navigator staff will register you with their group. Do not register for the festival through Spirit West Coast.
