

November 24, 2010

Karen and her November F@W speakers past. Through them, she has joined two Bible studies and is learning how to heal. Next, Hazel had us laughing as she joked about trying to find verses in her Bible to share with others, and how empowering it has been for her to have a place to bring her friends to hear about God. She and I are talking about meeting to study the Bible together after the first of the year. Finally, Ricci shared about coming to Faith@Work as a new believer, being able to ask questions and find help among like-hearted women. She is growing in her faith by leaps and bounds and memorizing new Scripture verses weekly.

Now as we put November behind us we begin to plan for the biggest event of our year: our Christmas luncheon on December 13. We're expecting 250-300 women at this event and it will take about 50 volunteers to make it happen.

It's been a few days since our Faith@Work luncheon but I can't stop thinking about the fun we had! It was our annual Thanksgiving event; a time of celebration and remembrance of all that God has done through this ministry in the past year. We had gifts for all our first-time guests, a slide show of highlights from previous luncheons, and testimonies from three of our regular attenders, who shared how Faith@Work has made a difference in their lives. These testimonies were the highlight of the day for me!

Melissa spoke first. She shared about the women she has met here who have helped her deal with difficult issues from her

Last year's Christmas luncheon attended by over 250 women

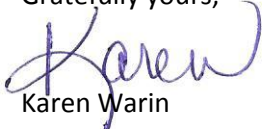

Our speaker this year is a woman from Dallas, Texas who will share how she and her husband learned to keep their faith in God after losing their young son to cancer. It's a message on how to journey well and trust God even when His answer to our prayers is no. If you've never been to one of these luncheons before, this would be a great one to try. Email me at kwarin@navigatorsabq.org for more information.

Our wonderful table hostesses, Christmas 2009

We have much to celebrate as we approach the end of another year of ministry! God is faithful and His work is being accomplished! Finally, "I thank God for you, the God I worship with my whole life..." (2 Tim 1:3 MSG). May God bless you and your family this holiday season.

Gratefully yours,

Karen Warin

7820 Villanueva Dr NE / Albuquerque, NM 87109 / (505) 857-0964 / kwarin@navigatorsabq.org